

Each year,
we strive to make a difference

by improving the lives of women and children in the greater Annapolis and Anne Arundel County community.

Our Vision

Junior League of Annapolis, Inc. is the leader in making Anne Arundel County a place where all women and children are able to reach their full potential.

how to get involved

Junior League of Annapolis, Inc. has a current membership of over 300 women who donate over 20,000 service hours to the community each year.

Junior League reaches out to all women of any race, religion or national origin who demonstrate an interest in and a commitment to voluntarism.

JLA trains members to act effectively as community volunteers through an established volunteer leadership training curriculum.

The first year of active service in Junior League of Annapolis is a Provisional year. Provisional members have the opportunity to volunteer for all JLA community outreach and fundraising projects.

New provisional classes form twice a year. The fall class runs from September through December; the spring class runs from January to May.

our community projects

Done in a Day

These one-time special projects are completed in a short period of time and meet a specific community need in Anne Arundel County that is in sync with JLA's mission and community programs.

Read 2 Kids

The Read 2 Kids' mission is to provide disadvantaged children with new books and to see every single one of them read, learn and succeed. Read 2 Kids makes new, high-quality books available to schools and programs serving children from low-income families.

Seeds 4 Success

Seeds 4 Success began as a grass roots, after-school program to create more positive opportunities for youth living in public housing. S4S currently has four programs: Eastport Girls Club, I Am a Reader, Parent Challenge, and The Alumnae and College Access Program, created to prepare and empower 10th-12th grade Eastport Girls Club graduates to attend and successfully complete college.

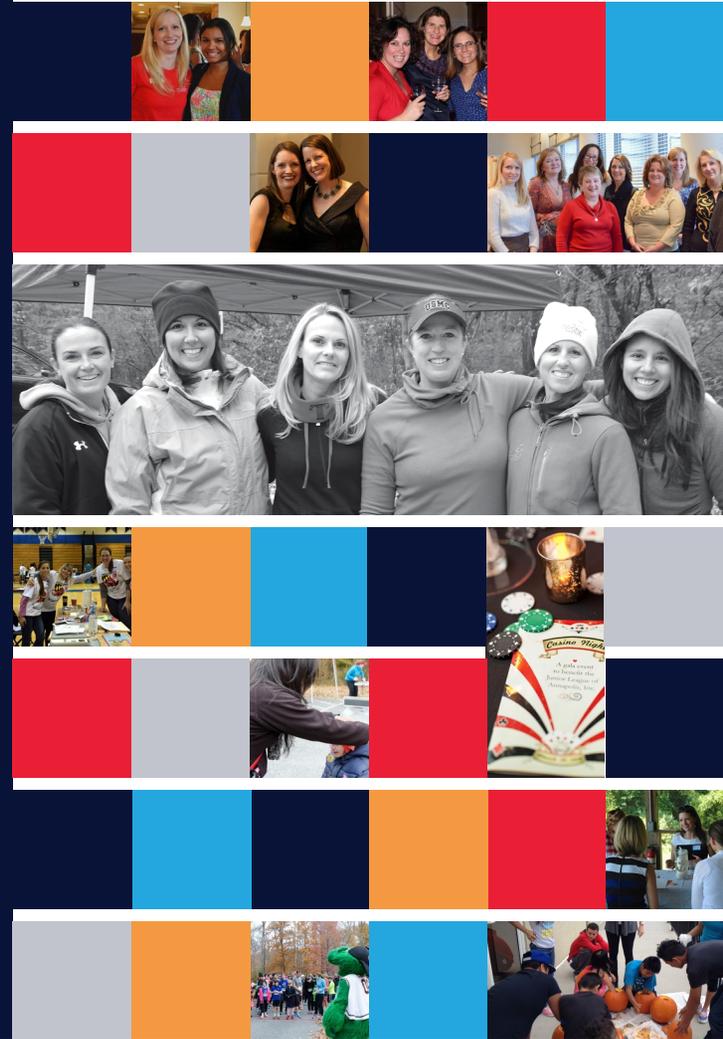

AJLI about

Association of Junior Leagues International

In 1901, Mary Harriman, a 19 year old New York City debutante with a social conscience, founded the first Junior League.

Moved by the suffering she saw around her, Harriman mobilized a group of 80 other young women, hence the name "Junior" League, to work to improve the squalid conditions in which immigrants were living on the Lower East Side in Manhattan. Currently, there are 296 Junior Leagues in the United States, England, Canada and Mexico.

In 1948, eight Junior League members living in Anne Arundel County formed a group interested in implementing volunteer projects in the Annapolis area. Although they were members of the Junior League of Baltimore, their foremost interest was in their own community.
